ACADEMIC TEACHING EXCELLENCE

The British Council has created the course Academic Teaching Excellence: English as Medium of Instruction \(ATE\).

This course for university lecturers is not only an English language course, it also combines innovative teaching methodology and linguistic practice in order to enhance the quality of teaching in higher education. ATE helps build the future of the university.

The ATE course is an intensive week long seminar for non-native English speaking lecturers who teach their subjects through the medium of English. It has been co-developed by the British Council and the University of Oxford's Department of Education. It is a foundation course in EMI that addresses the complex linguistic challenge of teaching and learning in a second language.

QUALITY & VALUES

CHILD PROTECTION

The British Council recognises that we have a fundamental duty of care towards all children we engage with, including a duty to protect them from abuse. We achieve this through compliance with UK child protection laws and relevant laws in each of the countries we operate in, as well as by adherence to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the child (UNCRC) 1989.

This policy is mandatory for all British Council staff worldwide. This includes anyone who works for the British Council, either in a paid or unpaid, full or part time capacity. This includes directly employed staff, trustees, contractors, agency staff, consultants, volunteers, interns and anyone working on behalf of the British Council.

MAINSTREAMING EQUALITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

We take diversity into account when developing and delivering processes and functions, consider it as part of policy decisions and build it into the planning of programmes and projects. We have a variety of tools that support us to do this. All British Council staff around the world undertake equality, diversity and inclusion training and the products we develop undergo monitoring to ensure neutrality and usage from all groups of the population.
